YMBC DISTRIBUTES CHRISTMAS BASKETS TO NEEDY FAMILIES

Over sixty needy families in and around Fulton had a merrier Christmas this year as a result of the efforts of the Young Men's Business Club.

The Club distributed bushel baskets heaping with meats, fruit, candy and grocery staples to these families Christmas Eve, following a money-raising campaign of several weeks through the sale of refrigerator tickets.

The campaign under the direction of a committee headed by Gene Hoodenpye, was highly successful, and the ticket sale was enthusiastically supported by practically all club members and the general public.

Cliff Shields, Club president has issued a note of thanks to the people of Fulton for their support of the project, and to Police Chief "Gip" McDade and Paul Durbin for acting as judges at the drawing, and to those numerous individuals who helped swell the fund with cash donations.

Not the least of these made happy on Christmas Eve was Harlan Craven, 103 Jefferson street, Fulton, the proud owner of a new seven and one-half foot Deluxe Crosley Shelvador awarded at the close of the sale.

In addition to its Christmas basket project in December, the YMBC also underwrote the cost of having Santa Claus on the streets of Fulton three different days, decorated its signboard on Lake street and erected and decorated a Christmas tree on Lake street.

CITY COUNCIL GIVES COST OF LIVING WAGE HIKES TO EMPLOYEES

A cost of living increase in salaries has been granted to city employees, it was made known at a special meeting of the City Council called by Mayor T. T. Boaz on Monday evening. The increase will approximate ten per cent of the salaries. The increase granted Monday night is the first in several years and was deemed necessary in view of spiraling living costs, which have increased far beyond the ten per cent allowed.

With other fields paying more lucrative salaries the move was made in order to give citizens good service through efficient well paid employees.

Attended by the mayor, the new councilmen and other city officials the group also raised privilege licenses for the operation of a liquor store from $250 to $400. This increase was the only one made.

With the appointment of a permanent chief of police scheduled to be made at the regular meeting of the council on Monday, January 5, a new position of assistant chief was created, with that appointment also made at the regular meeting. G. P. (Gip) McDade is the present chief of police, recently appointed to fill the unexpired term of K. P. Dalton, who resigned.

As an added source of revenue for the city an assessment of $15 per year was placed on the use of each skill-involved coin machine, such as pin-ball, race horse and similar contraptions.

The meeting on Monday night will be the first regular meeting to be attended by the newly elected councilmen.

A petition from the School Board requesting action for salary increases for local school teachers was returned with the notation that salary increases in that category did not come within the province of the City Council.

SPIRITUAL PEACE

The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.—Galatians 5:22, 23.

Peace is the proper result of the Christian temper. It is the great kindness which our religion doth us, that it brings us to a stillness of mind, and a consistency within ourselves.—Bishop Patrick.

We have no peace within ourselves, it is in vain to seek it from outward sources.—Rochefoucauld.

Nothing can bring you peace but yourself; nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.—Emerson.

In every age and clime, "On earth peace, good will toward men" must be the watchword of Christianity.—Mary Eddy.

Regardless of which direction farm products prices take, costs are likely to go higher before turn-back experts say.

WHAT'S IN A STATE PRINTER REVEALS

Can't pass up an opportunity to tell a good story, even if it does concern ourselves, but here's one for the geography book.

Our Wednesday mail brought a letter from Fulton, Miss. It was not missent to that Mississippi city but really intended for us in Fulton, Ky., from Fulton, Miss.

Seems as how we had an employee during the holidays who found time on his hands while we visited in Mississippi. Came Monday morning and he diligently reported for work to the shop in Fulton, Miss.

Seems that he got on a train and sometimes Saturday decided it was time to head back to work, but failed to consult his conductor to which Fulton he wanted.

The employee was a temporary one and in this time-honored profession is called a "floater" and that he did, probably somewhere around New Orleans by now.

He saved our lives during the holiday advertising volume and we can only say "Goodbye, Mr."

REVENUE COLLECTOR TO BE IN FULTON DURING JANUARY

Collector of Internal Revenue, S. R. Glenn, announces that a deputy from his office will visit Fulton, Jan. 8 and 9, 1948, for the purpose of assisting farmers in preparing their January 15th declaration of final income tax returns also taxpayers who would be required to file amended declaration returns or would be privileged to file final returns by Jan. 15.

A deputy collector of internal revenue also will be located at South Fulton, Tenn., City Hall on Jan. 9, for the same purpose.

Any person whose total income in 1947 was $500.00 or more, is required under federal internal revenue law to file an income tax return.

Under the internal revenue law, farmers are permitted to postpone filing a declaration of their estimated income tax until January 15. If data and records are complete on or before Jan. 15, they may file their final return and eliminate the necessity of filing an estimated income tax return.

Certain other taxpayers who have filed an estimated income tax return and are required to amend same on or before Jan. 15, 1948 may also file their final returns by Jan. 15, if they have the necessary records and information available. If not, then an amended estimate must be filed not later than Jan. 15, 1948.

All final income tax returns for the calendar year 1947 must be filed on or before March 15, 1948.

The service is free.

FEDERAL LAND BANK DECLARES DIVIDEND

The Federal Land Bank of Louisville has declared a dividend of $412,682.50, announces M. S. Kennedy, Jr., president.

It will be paid to the bank's stockholders—the 118 national farm loan association in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee on December 22. This brings to almost $5,000,000 the amount of dividends paid by the bank since it was chartered in 1917.

The dividend just declared, explained Kennedy, is for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948. It is paid early in the fiscal year in order to give the national farm loan associations an opportunity to declare dividend checks to their 28,000 members at annual meetings held between January 15 and April 15.

The amount of the Land Bank's dividend that each association can pass on its farmer members will depend upon the association's financial condition and the progress it is making on its reserve program, Kennedy said.

Senator Barkley's Nephew Chooses Army As Career

Captain Philip L. Stern, commanding officer of Army recruiting in this area disclosed here today that Paul Denker, age 41, of Route One Paducah, Ky., nephew of the Alben W. CITY COMPLIMENTED ON NEW BLOOD BANK

A letter expressing deep appreciation for the work done in behalf of the Blood Bank for Fulton has been received by Mrs. M. W. Haws, president of the Woman's Club who sponsored the blood donations project here.

Feeling gratified at the small but sincere beginning of the blood bank for Fulton, the complete letter follows.

Dear Mrs. Haws:

I want to express my appreciation for your cooperation and the assistance of your organization in initiating the Blood Bank Program for Fulton.

After completion of laboratory procedures and final inspection of the blood drawn we find that we have 20 (twenty) units of 500 cc of blood which will be credited to Fulton.

As blood is needed it will be dispensed from here until suitable arrangements can be made to store some of the blood in Fulton. We want all the physicians of your city to feel free to call for the blood as it is needed. If the demand exceeds your deposit we will be more than happy to advance any amount of blood necessary to fulfill your requirements.

Do not feel discouraged on account of the small number of donations. We are well pleased with the interest shown and are sure that many more donors would have been available if it had not been so near Christmas. When we come back or our next trip at least a few people will have had an opportunity to receive some of the benefits of this program and interest will be intensified.

We plan for this to be a permanent welfare community service and realize that time and work are required to introduce all the many advantages of this program.

If at any time we may serve your community in any way please let us know.

Yours very truly,
J. Kenneth Cooke,
Adm. Assistant to
M. K. Callison, M. D.,
Director.

Twenty-Ninth Annual Session Replete With Interesting Tours And Legislation

Roundhouse Round-Up

By Alice Clark

Laborer and Mrs. John E. Worley of Fulton Route 4, announce the marriage of their daughter, Rosa Mae to George E. Feist, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Feist, Sr., of Paducah.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized quietly at 10 a. m. Monday morning December 1, in the home of Rev. T. J. Tichenor in Paducah. Miss Vivian Missavage of Chicago, Ill., was the bride's only attendant and James R. Thompson of Paducah was best man.

Mrs. Feist is a graduate of Fulton high school and of Draughon's Business college and is now employed by the Katterjohn Concrete Product company in Paducah. Mr. Feist was graduated from Dorian's Private School and is an employee of the Illinois Central Railroad in Paducah. After a wedding trip to New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Feist will make their home with the groom's parents at 2737 Washington street, Paducah.

I guess all new years resolutions are broken by now as they usually only last about a half a day. We at the roundhouse have made one that is to last the whole year. That is that no one will get hurt during the entire year of 1948, so watch us keep this new years resolution.

I want to thank each of you who helped make my Christmas a pleasant one. I want to thank the boys in the roundhouse for my gift. I thought it very nice and certainly appreciated it, there aren't words to express how much I appreciated it.

I would like to take this minute to say I am glad to see what wonderful work the members of the A. A. are doing in Fulton. Anyone interested in it should watch the papers and when they have an open meeting attend help make your home town a better place to live, and that's why I take my hat off to the members of the A. A. The A. A. club room is in the Earle hotel. They have a real nice room and the members have worked hard fixing this room up. There is one thing they need, a rug. I am working hard trying to get a rug for this room if you would like to donate to this fund please call me at 29 or 337 or else drop it in an envelope and mail to roundhouse round-up Fulton County News office, Fulton. Each penny counts so let's call or drop a coin in the mail regardless how small or large it will be appreciated.

Mrs. G. E. Allen, wife of retired coal chute operator has returned from Spokane, Wash., where she was called to the bedside of her mother. We are glad to hear that her mother is improving.

Retired Engineer Carpt. and Mrs. R. E. Pierce have returned from Columbus, Ga., where they have been visiting friends and relatives.

Retired Engineer Elmer Worley was all smiles around here Christmas Eve. Santa Claus had played a radio on the train for Elmer and it was just what he wanted.

Why have they started calling a certain brakeman, Pop? He isn't married and very young, so it couldn't be his age, I wonder?

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Carter and "on A. T. Carter visited in Paducah during the holidays.

Machinist and Mrs. Robert Lowery have returned from Charleston, S. C., after spending the holidays with Mr. Lowery's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Murphy was the guest of Mrs. Murphy's brother, Carman James Smith during Christmas.

Miss Linday Wilkins daughter of Painter and Mrs. Lucian Wilkins is spending the holidays with relatives in Detroit.

Paul Laine, Junior of Lexington, has been the guest of his parents, Machinist Helper and Mrs. P. A. Laine at their home on Eddings street.

Mrs. J. T. Travis widow of deceased yardmaster has had as her guest her grandsons Russell Junior of Lexington and John Mac Travis of Nashville, Tenn.

What is expected to be the most colorful and eventful convention ever held by the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, is scheduled for Jan. 6-9 in Louisville. It's the 29th annual session of this farm organization that got its start in Kentucky in 1918.

With 1,000 official delegates from 110 counties, it is expected to draw its largest crowd. Particularly interesting will be the tour of Louisville industries, amendments to by-laws, resolutions, commodity conferences, elections, the fun festival and the annual banquet with its floor show.

A tour of Louisville industries processing farmers' products and manufacturing farm supplies and equipment will be made by a group of advance delegates limited to 300.

Some spirited debates may be set off when the delegates vote on proposed amendments to the State Federation's By-Laws. These would increase the dues from $5 to $7.50 annually, change the time of holding the convention to some time in late October or November, limit official delegates to the convention and members of the State Board of Directors, and have all state officers elected by Board members.

Commodity conferences, started two years ago by the Kentucky Federation, have created widespread interest, particularly in the major fields of tobacco, dairy and livestock.

If the By-Laws are amended as proposed, half of the delegates this time will be elected for two years, the remaining half for one year. But half of the Board members thereafter will be elected for two-year terms. Likewise the number of Board members will be limited as provided by the amendments. Also if the proposed amendment passes, the officers, including the president, first and second vice-presidents and secretary-treasurer, will be elected by the Board. The executive secretary is now elected by the Board.

Adding to the color of the convention will be the fun festival, set for the night of Jan. 7. It is strictly entertainment from start to finish. The annual banquet held the second night, has always been one of the most colorful parts of the convention program. A floor show this year will add to its color.

CHRISTMAS DINNER ENJOYED

The family of Mrs. Hayden Donoho met for Christmas dinner Sunday, December 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown on the Clinton Highway.

WHITE CAR MARKET

Uncovered In Fulton

There is a "white market" and we, as authorized new car dealers, are members of that WHITE MARKET. We are standing by our guns in defense of the car buyer who wants a new car. We believe that only by such a policy can we fulfil our obligation to the manufacturer and to our customers.

We have been asked if it was possible to get a new CHEV-ROLET without a trade-in. Deliveries of this kind have been noted below and we invite you to talk to these owners about prices and other details.

Below we list the names of those who bought new Chevrolets from Jan. 1st to Dec. 31st, 1947.

The automobile manufacturer deserves a pat on the back for pricing his product at less than the public is willing to pay. He is doing more than his share to control inflation and we, as Chevrolet dealers, are doing our utmost to carry on in the same spirit.

Yes, there is a "White Market." and we are proud to sign ourselves as "white marketeers." It is our intention to serve the public through good times and bad---through abnormal times as well as normal.

Friends, Christmas has come and gone.

For many there was one round of gaily and fun, Windows blazed with lights while the people inside were happy.

But let us look at another picture in a home down the street. No lights blaze from the windows, no shouts of joy are heard from the children within. Instead inside are dirty, ragged little children whose eyes are sunken and hollow, who are hungry and cold and wonder why this has to happen to them, and why there is no Santa Claus for them while their mother stood by haggard and worn listening at every sound for the footsteps of her husband. Wondering why he didn't come home. Yes, she wondered why John had turned out to be the horrible drunkard that he is.

John was such a fine young man reared by God fearing parents, who said, "Son, never take the first drop."

But one day shortly after his marriage he came from the office and picked up the evening paper. There boldly before his eyes was a full page liquor advertisement. It was a very beautiful advertisement and as John gazed at this he thought "Well, the staff of this paper as well as the other town paper are Christians, yes, even officials in the church and they advertise this in their paper surely there can be no harm in my taking a drink for surely they think it is all right." So down he went and had a drink. One drink led to another from day to day.

I am sure John didn't mean to become a drunkard but we see him in this picture today, hopeless, drunkard and his home wrecked.

You who allow this liquor to be advertised in your paper, STOP. Ask yourself the question, "What if this was my son," and friends, it could be your son.

I know you don't want this to happen.

So let me beg you as one who has the interest of our young people at heart to stop advertising this awful stuff in your paper and remember it could be your son some day.

Friends, this was written prayer-fully and with no malice towards any one and I hope and pray it may do some good.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Every labor union should discourage show-downs and feather-bedding. Workers within unions who have the ability and are willing to deliver an honest day's work for an honest day's pay must be encouraged, not hog-tied. For instance the bricklayer who is capable of laying 1,500 bricks per day must be allowed to do so, and must be compensated accordingly. The worker unable or unwilling to lay 1,500 bricks must be offered a correspondingly less attractive reward.

A union-sponsored plan must be established whereby every worker becomes worthy of his hire—a plan which does not penalize the good worker in favor of the bad.

In short, there must be a grading of workers—the top-drawer worker to be classified as "A," the second rate as "B," the downright incompetent as "C." Under such a grading it would be the natural instinct of the B and C workers to better their grades and the A Class-A workers would have to look to their laurels—incentive and initiative would be promoted.

If union leadership gags at the thought of such an intelligent classification for fear it would cost them numerical membership, let me point out that such a possible loss could easily be compensated by setting up a progressive scale of dues. Most certainly the Class-A worker would be willing to pay his union what is fair for the privilege of having his hands untied.

At present the chief concern of our union heads is to gather into their folds as many people as will pay union dues. Poor craftsmen are accepted into unions with the same status as the good, with the result that the poor outnumber the good by so wide a margin that real craftsmen have very little voice within their own unions. In union meetings the minority is forced to go along with the majority who in many cases are not fit to be classed as trade unionists. This is a deplorable condition, a far cry from the honest intent of unionism.

If unionism has fallen into evil repute in the nation, the foregoing is responsible. Unless enough red-blooded leaders and union members declare themselves in favor of a program based on equit and integrity, unionism will surely perish in the bed it is making for itself.

The demand for new homes today is greater than ever before in the history of our country. Man-power and materials, with the gradual lifting of governmental restrictions, are now available—and yet the average man desiring to build a home is unable to do so.

And needed in addition to millions of homes for workers is an adequate House for Labor—a bright house on the hill at which all eyes may gaze with admiration and respect. Needless to say, these badly-needed houses are not going to be built until labor is graded according to its ability to produce and until the unions themselves see the light and openly declare for it.

Only through the immediate inauguration of a thorough educational program, based upon a sincere determination on the part of unions to reform, can the threatened depression be averted and national prosperity maintained. It takes no Einstein brain to figure that one out. It is just as simple as A.B.C.

Yes, sir, Harry Truman has come quite a way since he was known as the lad who could plow one of the straightest furrows in Jackson County, Mo.

For instance, he's now hep to heraldy. And that takes considerable hepping.

An Executive Order, setting up a seal for the Department of the Air Force, just flew in. It says, among other things:

"Shield: Per fess nebuly abased azure and argent, in chief a thunderbolt or inflamed proper.

"Crest: On a wreath argent and azure an American bald eagle, wings displayed and partially elevated proper in front of a cloud argent."

This was signed, "Harry S. Truman."

Well, it turns out this isn't really doubletalk at all. People interested in heraldry talk like that all the time.

Which is reason enough for peering to the history of our crests and seals, and finding out how they got that way.

But first, a brief explanation. In that order of Mr. Truman's, "azure" means blue, "argent" means silver,

"per fess" means divided by a horizontal bar, and "nebuly" means cloudlike.

The language dates all the way back to when knighthood was in flower.

Arthur DuBois, of the Army Heraldic Section, told a reporter that heraldry has its practical side, too.

"It's the way we make documents authentic," he said. "That's why we adopted the great seal on June 20, 1782."

That's a long time ago, but we weren't starting anything.

The Encyclopedia Britannica says the Greeks and Romans liked doodads on their armor. So did the Japanese and Chinese, and so did the early Aztecs.

There was a reason for this. A man in armor looks pretty much like another man in armor. So a coat of arms was more than decorative; it was also the way to tell Gus from Joe.

The original American Navy consisted of four warships and four escort vessels. Their names were: Alfred, Columbus, Andrew Doria, Cabot, Providence, Hornet, Wasp and Fly.

RUPTURE

Expert Coming To Mayfield Again
GEO. L. HOWE

Well-known expert of Indianapolis, and ex-U. S. Army Medical Corpsman, will personally demonstrate his method without charge at the Hall Hotel, Mayfield, Thursday, Jan. 8th from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Mr. Howe says the Howe method contracts the openings in remarkably short time on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture, and no matter how much you lift or strain, and puts you back to work the same day as efficient as before you were ruptured.

The Howe Rupture Shield has no leg strap; waterproof, sanitary, practically indestructible, and can be worn while bathing. Each shield is skillfully molded and fitted to the parts under heat, which gives a perfect fit and satisfaction.

Large and difficult ruptures following operations especially solicited.

Do not overlook this opportunity if you want gratifying results. Mailing address P. O. Box 5233 E. Michigan St. Station Indianapolis 1, Ind.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God" is the subject of the Lesson Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 4.

The Golden Text is: "Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts: I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God." (Isa. 44:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts." (Ps. 96:8).

All are welcome to our services.

The Season's Greetings

How far we have come even within the memory of living man....

How far we have advanced, each of us trudging on the heels of Science and Production....

We have sped forward and upward to new comforts, new conveniences, new pleasures, new freedoms, new capacities, new strength....

But in our race for Progress, away from the restrictions of the past, let's not leave behind the human values of love and friendship and helpfulness and faith and prayer.

First written many years ago,
this thought will serve you as well for 1948 as it did the year in which it was written, "I expect to pass through this world but once; any good thing therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now; let me not defer or neglect it—for I shall not pass this way again."

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Hosts To Dinner Party Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Davis were gracious host and hostess to a dinner party Tuesday evening at their home on Eddings street with ten couples attending.

The house was attractively decorated throughout in silver, red and green in keeping with the holiday season.

The beautifully appointed dining table was centered with a mirrored winter scene. The guests were seated at card tables with each place was marked with attractive mirrored place cards and centered with red candles.

Following the dinner games, music and singing were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall Martin and sons, John Marshall Jr., and William of Martin were guests Tuesday of Mrs. W. W. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McGee have returned to their home in Vicksburg, Miss., after several days visit with her father, Joe Bennett and family.

Bedroom-Nursery for Small Home

Privacy for parents and the baby is provided in this smartly decorated bedroom in a small home. The nursery end, cleverly partitioned by a divisional drape hung on a track from the ceiling, does not detract from the decor of the room. The partition is clothe in a large, splashy floral pattern in tones of Grand Canyon rose and Prairie mauve. The large linen closet has sliding glass doors.

This attractive bedroom also demonstrates the versatility of the basic home furnishings color-cade plan. Great Lakes blue, Grand Canyon rose and Prairie mauve are the featured colors, with interesting accents in Great Smoky gray and Shenandoah green. Wall-to-wall carpeting in a smart tone-on-tone pattern in Great Lake blue, gives added spaciousness to the room.

FARM HINTS

Chickens are susceptible to changes in weather conditions, and unless properly housed during winter months egg production will drop drastically. Adequate, weatherproof laying houses are essential for profitable production.

Poultry specialists of state agriculture colleges, in collaboration with farm building authorities and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, recently made the following recommendations:

"Insulation is generally recommended for laying houses, because it helps maintain more nearly uniform interior temperatures regardless of the season. In almost all laying houses the roofs or ceiling should be well insulated to counteract the heat absorbed by the roof in hot dry weather, and to reduce heat losses during cold weather."

The first essential of any farm building, even before insulation is considered, is a sound, weather-tight roof which will give year-round protection against changing weather conditions. If the laying hens are subjected to chilling draughts or dampness through leaking roofs, egg production drops off and fatal illness increases.

Inspect Roofs

Farm building authorities recommend that the roofs of laying houses be carefully inspected and if weaknesses are found, suggest re-roofing rather than patching before making additional expenditures for insulating materials. A roof of sturdy fire, and wind-resistant asphalt shingles usually can be placed over the old roof. The additional covering of asphalt shingles will provide added roof insulation.

Agriculture engineers also recommend that portable chicken houses be repaired and rebuilt during the winter months to have them ready for spring when the young chicks covering is essential. On small, portable range houses mineral surfaced, or smooth surfaced asphalt roll roofing properly applied will provide snug protection for the baby chicks.

Winterizing Tractors

The farm tractor is a complex piece of machinery and requires checking at many points when getting it ready for winter. The usual procedure is to change the motor oil and the transmission lubricant and get the cooling system prepared for winter. But proper winterizing also requires checking the thermostat, air cleaner, magneto, spark plugs, sediment bowls, the tires and the battery.

Better handling and marketing of tobacco is urged for the farmer who would be left get more money from his leaf.

S. J. Reed Sells Prize Cattle At Bourbon Show

Calculation of the final sales average from the Second Annual Bourbon Beef Show held here at the Bourbon Stockyards show that an all time sales record was set at the sale.

According to the show's general manager, Jas. R. "Buck" Rash, Jr., Henderson, the following local cattle men sold the listed number of head to the following packers for the stated prices:

S. J. Reed and Son, Samjo Farm, Fulton; one head to E. Kahn's Sons Co., $39.50; one head to E. Kahn's Sons Co., $37.50.

No less than 835 "Bourbon Bees" weighing 891,745 pounds were sold in the sale of a gross of $321,717.50.

This gave an average sale of $35.08 per hundredweight. This is the highest sale average not only for the Bourbon Stockyards but also for the south and has only been exceeded once and that by Chicago's International Sale. The average weight was 1070 pounds.

Last year the Bourbon Beef Show averaged only $29.13.
